CHECKLIST:
HOW TO BENEFIT FROM THE DUTY-FREE, QUOTA-FREE SCHEME OF THE REPUBLIC OF KOREA

Step 1: Check the country coverage

You should check if a country falls within the definition of least-developed countries.

Step 2: Establish the tariff classification of the product

You should establish the correct tariff classification (tariff item number, HS-based) of the product intended for export to the Republic of Korea.

Step 3: Check the product coverage

You should find out whether your product is eligible for preference under the DFQF scheme of the Republic of Korea.

To do this, you should examine the product lists of the DFQF scheme in relation to the precise tariff classification and product description.

Step 4: Assess the preferential margin

If your product is eligible for preferential treatment under the DFQF scheme of the Republic of Korea, you should assess the preferential margin to determine the price you can offer your buyer/importer.

Step 5: Comply with origin criteria

You should ensure that your product complies with the origin criteria set by the Republic of Korea.

Step 6: Check consignment conditions

You should ensure that the consignment conditions specified are met.

Step 7: Prepare documentary evidence

The DFQF scheme requires the certificate of origin as documentary evidence.

EXPLANATORY NOTES ON THE PREFERENTIAL TARIFFS OF THE REPUBLIC OF KOREA FOR LEAST-DEVELOPED COUNTRIES

1. Overview

The preferential tariff system of the Republic of Korea, which started in 2000, aims to contribute to the economic development and trade expansion of the least-developed countries (LDCs). The Government of the Republic of Korea has increased the product coverage since the WTO Ministerial Council in Hong Kong in December 2005. At the end of 2007, product coverage was only 1.8 per cent on the basis of the HS 6-digit classification, but jumped to 75 per cent in 2008. Since then, it has increased every year: to 80 per cent in 2009, 85 per cent in 2010, 90 per cent in 2011 and finally 95 per cent in 2012.

Regarding rules of origin, the Republic of Korea also eased the value added rule in 2012. The value of input of the exporting country should exceed 40 per cent of the free on board (FOB) price of the final products, which was 50 per cent until 2011.

The Republic of Korea has a law and a presidential decree to govern the granting of a preferential tariff to LDCs: paragraph 3 of article 76 of the Customs Law and the Presidential Decree on Preferential Tariffs for Least-Developed Countries.

2. Beneficiaries

The Republic of Korea grants preferential tariffs to 48 least-developed countries (see annex 1). A list of the countries is attached to the presidential decree as an annex.

3. Product coverage

The total number of items that preferential tariffs are applied to is 4,802 out of 5,052 items on an HS 6-digit basis, which amounts to 95 per cent. For a comprehensive list of the products covered, see annex 2.

- For industrial products, almost every item is covered except for a small number of sensitive items such as crude oil and petroleum products.
- For agricultural and fishery products, 483 items, or about 63 per cent, are covered, with the exceptions being some sensitive items including rice, beef, pork, etc.

4. Depth of tariff cuts

The preferential tariff rate is zero for all products without quotas (see annex 2). In the case of products eligible for minimum market access under the Presidential Decree on Tariff Concessions Granted Pursuant to the World Trade Organization Agreement and Other Agreements, preferential tariffs apply only to the in-quota amount.¹

5. Safeguard clause

In cases where a sharp increase in the import of products eligible for preferential tariffs causes or threatens to cause serious injury to domestic industries which produce similar products, or directly competitive or substitutable products, for the purpose of protecting domestic industries the relevant ministry or interested person may request the Minister of Strategy and Finance to suspend the application of preferential tariffs to the product in question. When it is determined as a result of examination that there are reasons to suspend the application of preferential tariffs, the Ministry of Strategy and Finance shall decide the suspension of the application of preferential tariffs immediately and announce the decision in a ministerial ordinance.

¹ Quota amount: HS 0802.90.10(52.9 Tons); HS1007.10.0000 (13.7 tons); HS1008.21.1000 (0.4 tons).

6. Rules of origin

- (1) Products eligible for preferential tariffs shall be wholly produced or obtained in the exporting country. The following products shall be considered as wholly produced or obtained in the exporting country:
 - (a) Raw materials or mineral products extracted from the soil, waters or seabed of the exporting country;
 - (b) Agricultural and forestry products harvested in the exporting country;
 - (c) Animals born and raised in the exporting country and products obtained from such animals;
 - (d) Products obtained by hunting or fishing conducted in the exporting country;
 - (e) Marine products caught on the high seas by vessels of the exporting country and products manufactured or processed, using such products as a material. In this case, "vessels of the exporting country" refers to vessels registered in the exporting country, at least 60 per cent of the equity of which is owned by a citizen(s) or the Government of the exporting country, or corporation or association legitimately registered in the exporting country;
 - (f) Used articles collected in the exporting country, fit only for the recovery of raw materials;
 - (g) Waste and scrap resulting from manufacturing operations conducted in the exporting country;
 - (h) Goods produced in the exporting country exclusively from the products referred to in subparagraphs (a) to (g) above.
 - (2) Products which are finally manufactured or processed in the exporting country by using products, as input, which originate from countries other than the exporting country, or the origin of which is not determined, shall be eligible for preferential tariffs if the value of the inputs does not exceed 60 per cent of the FOB price of the final products. In this case, if the final products include products originating from the Republic of Korea as input, the value of these products shall be excluded from the calculation of the total value of inputs.
 - (3) The value of inputs referred to in paragraph (2) above shall be calculated in the following order:
 - (a) The value including freight and insurance cost at the time of importation to the exporting country (cost, insurance and freight (CIF) price);
 - (b) The ascertainable price paid first for the inputs in the exporting country.
 - (4) Those who wish to receive preferential tariffs shall submit a certificate of origin (see annex 3) issued by the Government of the exporting country or an authority designated by the Government of the exporting country.
